New This Week

K. Stephen Morris, Jefferson Security Bank Tuesday, October 20, 2015

K. Stephen Morris, President and CEO of Jefferson Security Bank, will speak to us about the changes in community banking that have occurred in the 146 years of the bank's existence, including changes to both business and the customer experience. JSB opened in 1869 and is the oldest corporation in the state.

Mr. Morris earned degrees from West Virginia State College, the School of Banking at the University of Wisconsin-Madison, and the Graduate School of Banking at Louisiana State University.

Last Week

In Case You Missed It...

Bill Powell spoke to us about the Read Berkeley program, which he implemented with Martinsburg Rotary. Through this program, a school is identified, and each child in the second grade is provided with a backpack and a book of their choice.

Bert Oldenhuis, of The Hague, The Netherlands, joined us as a guest of Ken Mann.

Rob Hoxton won the 50/50 drawing.
